

TACT: Teen's and Children's Team

Who is TACT?

The Teen's and Children's Team (TACT) is a Salvatorian social justice group focused on the plight of vulnerable children and teens. The group's team members include Salvatorian priests, sisters, brothers and laity who are dedicated to be a voice for this vulnerable population.

What does TACT do?

TACT carries out their mission by spreading news and information about important legislation and programs that have an impact on children and teens. The group also dedicates crucial time petitioning state and federal leaders when they are alerted to particular bills coming up for a vote.

List-serve TACT Members: TACT team members identify and communicate to list-serve members up-coming legislation that will affect teens and children. These list-serve members, from many states, can then respond with appropriate contact to their state and federal leaders regarding those bills.

Salvatorian Charism & Core Values:

We Salvatorians are called to follow Jesus Christ, the Divine Savior, to be a prophetic voice for the renewal of the Church and world, manifesting to the world the goodness and kindness of God to all people, by conveying the values of the Gospel, and being a voice for the vulnerable, especially teens and children.
